ISO 37301: 2021 Compliance Management Systems

Specifies requirements and guidelines on implementation, maintenance, and continual improvement of a new or already existing compliance management system (CMS).

Compliance is an ongoing process. Organizations can safeguard their integrity and minimize noncompliance by embedding compliance in the values, behavior, and attitude of the organization and by keeping leadership involved, since they apply core values to follow throughout.

Organizations can develop and spread a positive culture of compliance by following ISO 37301:2021. This results in multifold benefits, including improved sustainability, enhanced business reputation, improved means of considering the expectations of interested parties, increased commitment to managing compliance risks, increased confidence from third parties in the organization's capacity to achieve success, and minimized risk of contravention.
