Towards Sustainable Growth – ISO 14001 Environmental Management Systems

SIRIM

The ISO 14001 standard is a flexible approach to determine and manage the impact of business activities on the environment. It helps organisations, of any size or type, improve environmental performance through implementation of an environmental management system.

The standard enables businesses to achieve environmental objectives and fulfil compliance obligations, in line with their environmental policies and initiatives to ensure that operations are sustainable. Through effective use of resources, companies can prevent unnecessary costs related to wastage and improve efficiency for greater business growth.

It also encourages businesses to adopt a lifecycle perspective to its products and services – from acquisition of raw materials all the way to final disposal.

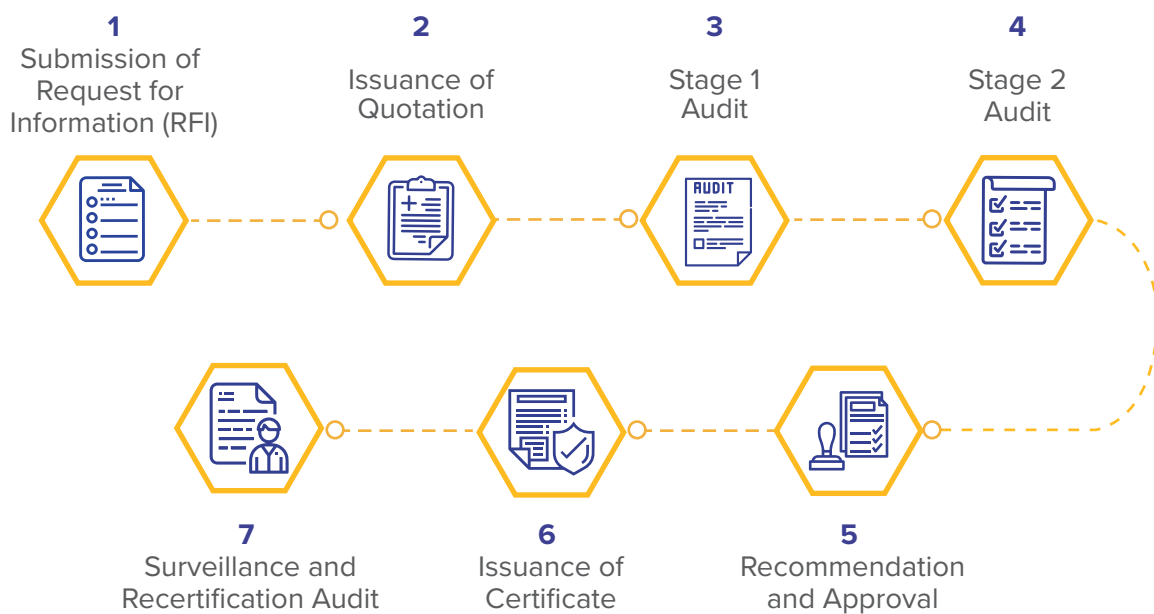

Certification allows companies to showcase commitment to the sustainability agenda and positions them as responsible corporate citizens. This helps secure stakeholders' trust through enhanced accountability and brand image.

SIRIM QAS has the expertise and experience to guide you through environmental management system implementation. ISO 14001 is compatible with other management system requirements, minimising disruptions to business operations.
