Connecting Minds – ISO 29993 Learning Services Outside Formal Education

Learning service providers need to meet the specific needs of the learner. The objectives, programmes, content and assessment methods need to be effective for them to be credible.

The ISO 29993 Learning Services Outside Formal Education certification stipulates requirements for learning services that are not considered to be formal education based on the ISO 29993 standard. This includes all forms of life-long learning such as vocational training or in-company training - either learnt in a classroom, taught through technology or a mixture of both.

With this blueprint, the goals of learning are defined, the facilities evaluated, and the interaction with learners improved.

ISO 29993 stands as the international standard to manage and assess the process by which an organization meets the needs and expectations of its training provision. It serves as a benchmark to certify learning service providers as meeting quality assurance in the service provided.

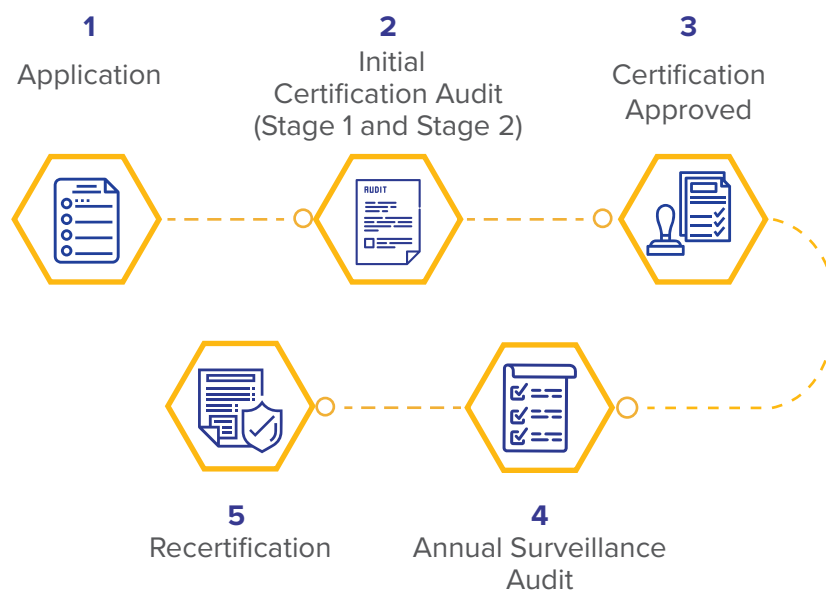

Companies are increasingly demanding that staff are continually upskilled according to global standards in today's competitive marketplace.

Why Get Certified

- Enhance the credibility of your learning services locally and internationally.
- Authenticate, update and optimise your learning services to maximise learning outcomes.
- Align the various elements of your learning services for the purpose of improving their effectiveness, efficiency and transparency.
- Set benchmarks for best practices within the industry and contribute to the improvement of the quality of education.
- Increase customer satisfaction through the provision of effective learning services.
- Ensure improvement of your services through continuous monitoring of the learning processes.
