SHARIAH-BASED QUALITY MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

CERTIFICATION SCHEME

Increase Market Acceptance of Your Products

Make your business more effective and ethical with a Shariah-based Quality Management System. With SIRIM QAS, you can enhance the credibility of your product and services offerings and deliver value, quality and excellence to the market by instilling universally accepted values in day-to-day operations and reap equitable distribution of wealth for all your relevant stakeholders.

In the Pursuit of Excellence – MS 1900 Shariah-Based Quality Management System

The MS 1900 provides a framework for a holistic management system applicable to all companies regardless of size or industry. It incorporates the ISO 9001 requirements with universal values to help companies deliver quality products and services that fulfil Shariah, regulatory, customer needs and interested parties.

Integrating Shariah elements of 'akidah' (belief system), 'akhlak', (behavioural traits), and 'fiqh' (interaction with people, the environment and religious observance) into core management processes will help promote good governance within an organisation.
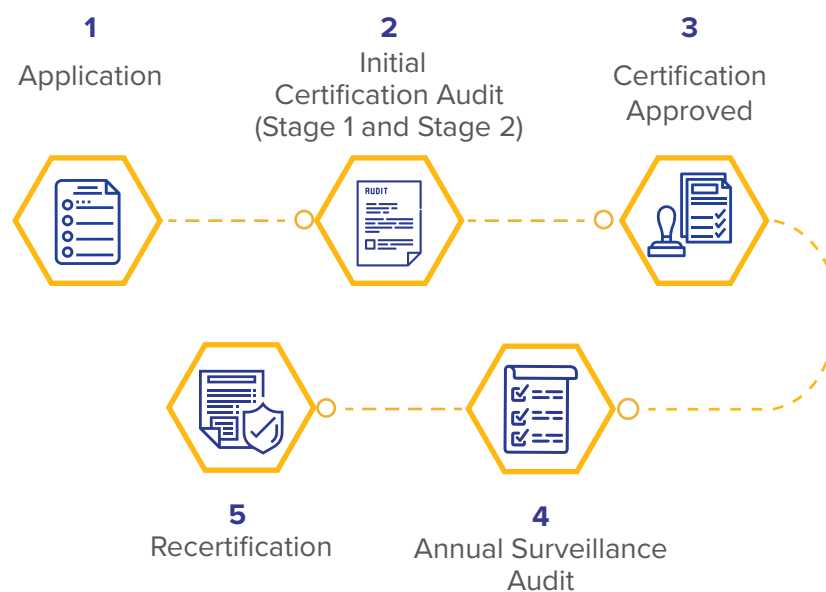

Companies can further benefit from inculcating ethical management practices through all organisation levels, enhancing the operational efficiency in everyday business. This will help differentiate your products and services in the market and facilitate market acceptance, especially among Muslim consumers, investors and interested parties.

Organisations from a wide array of industry segments meeting the applicable requirements can apply for the certification scheme. SIRIM QAS' team of skilled professionals and Shariah Technical Experts are ready to assess an organisation's management system against the MS 1900 standard.
