CERTIFICATION

Gain Market Access through ESG Compliance

Being a responsible corporate citizen is no longer an option!
As consumers demand that the companies they buy from demonstrate compliance to environmental, social and governance (ESG) best practices, companies need to show that they are socially responsible. SIRIM QAS can help you do just that!

Social Responsibility - The Key to Success

Why is it important for companies to embrace corporate social responsibility (CSR) practices such as environmental, social and governance (ESG)? Because it signifies compliance with the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) under the United Nations' 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

As Malaysia is a signatory to the UN 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, Malaysian organisations are encouraged to be in line with the principles of sustainability. Doing so will enable them to tap into various managerial, socio-environmental and commercial benefits that will uplift their reputation, generate good will and drive business growth.

SIRIM QAS International is the first certification body in Southeast Asia to offer IQNet SR10 Social Responsibility Certification, which helps organisations demonstrate that their management systems have been independently verified and found to be adhering to social responsibility best practices. This helps generate trust and confidence among internal and external stakeholders.
