Establishing trust is vital in today's business landscape. Whether you have a unique, ground-breaking product or you are operating in a field with no clear standards to compare to, our scheme is the best solution to your innovative product needs.

Our approach has been meticulously developed, drawing on input from various industries to ensure its relevant and practical for manufacturers. We have harnessed the knowledge and experience of different industry players to create a robust and dependable product evaluation process. With SIRIM QAS International, you can trust that your product will undergo a comprehensive assessment covering design, quality, reliability, and performance. We guarantee your product perfectly aligns with its intended use and targeted market.

How it Works

SIRIM QAS International's Product Appraisal Scheme comprises two categories: System Appraisal and Focused Product Appraisal.

System Appraisal: Unveil Your Innovative Products' Full Potential

A System Appraisal aims at implementing a small-scale project to demonstrate the feasibility of a theoretical or conceptual design. This process involves deploying a product's design concept in a pilot project and conducting a performance assessment over a defined period. By conducting a system appraisal, we can determine the product's viability and ensure its effectiveness in various scenarios.

Focused Product Appraisal: Elevate Your Innovative Products' Performance

Our Focused Product Appraisal is the perfect choice for those seeking a innovative product-specific evaluation. This appraisal method concentrates on the performance of your products by using its manufacturer's technical specifications as the benchmark, as well as factory inspections. SIRIM QAS International awards you a prestigious certificate and a surveillance audit at the end of this streamlined process. Plus, your product proudly earns the coveted "Top Mark" from SIRIM, proving its resilience and performance through rigorous testing.

This method is beneficial for products that meet the following criteria:

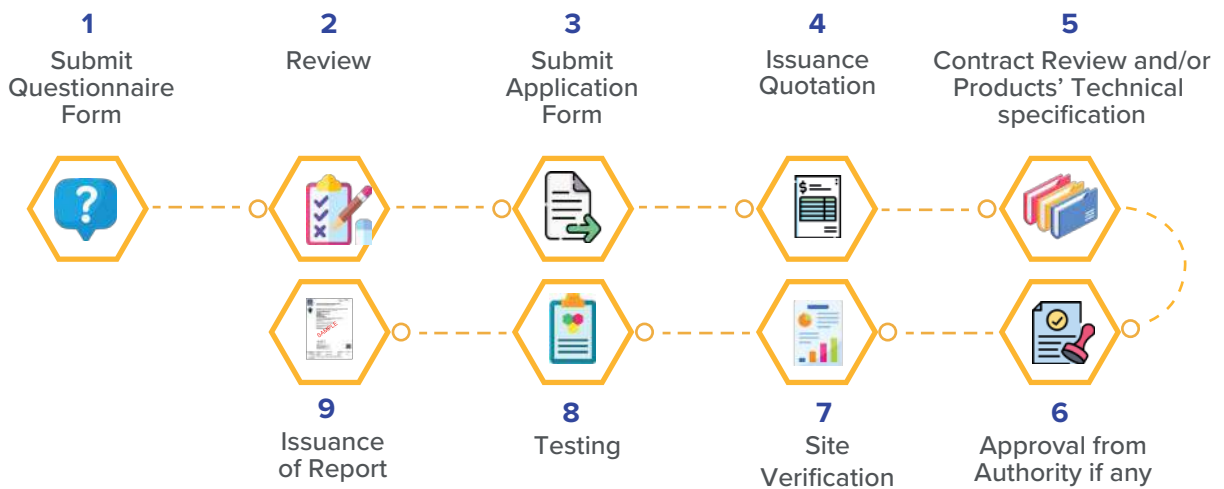

- The product is innovative and does not have an appropriate standard for testing or evaluation for certification.
- The product incorporates new technology that has yet to be proven effective in real-world applications.
- The product has already been certified but has undergone modifications.

Why Get Certified

- Enhanced Brand Reputation: Elevate your brand's reputation by embracing the power of refinement.
- Demonstrate Product Compliance: Show that your innovative product meets association or industry standards.
- Boost Consumer Confidence: Increase consumer confidence in your products.
- Independent Assurance: Provide independent assurance that your products are manufactured under a rigorous system of testing, supervision, and control.
- Operational Efficiency: Improve production efficiency and reduce wastage and rejects.
- Safety and Reliability: Assure users of your innovative products' safety and reliability.
